TELEGRAMS

(via Galveston.)

Berlin, 27th—Deep depression has seized on the population of this city in consequence of yesterday's bloody riots. The panic that prevails in all quarters has not been equalled in the memory of the present generation. Last night the riots were renewed, and the workmen, to make a stand against the charges of the police, took possession of several places. The most serious rioting was in Weissenberg, Labsbueen and Hilling Streets.

In the suburbs and Unter den Linden Avenue the fighting assumed most serious proportions. The police, unable to restrain the working men, who became more infuriated every moment, were obliged to charge them again and again, slashing with their sabres right and left, and wounding a great number of them. The rioters then threw up barricades in Kaiser Wilhelm Street, fighting desperately, until at last, at a late hour, they were beaten and dispersed.

These disturbances are attributed to the unpopularity of the Emperor amongst the working-classes, and also to his recent speech, which some people look on as that of a maniac, the general belief being that the Emperor has gone mad. It is said that His Majesty looked on at the riots from a window in the Imperial Palace, and that he smiled on seeing the people beaten back by the police. The papers are full of details and comments on these sad events, and predict further troubles.

In reference to the Emperor's recent speech at Brandenburg, it is said to have caused a great sensation all over Germany, and has served to excite political Opposition circles to such an extent that a crisis is considered inevitable. It is stated that, when the Sectarian Education Bill is sent from the Prussian Diet to the Herrenhaus (House of Nobles) Prince Bismarck will be found leading a formidable opposition to the Government.

The throwing out, on Thursday last, by the Reichstag of the Bill of the Socialist Party proposing a repeal of the taxes on articles of food, has likewise contributed to increase the excitement of the Socialists. The debate on the Bill was very warm, and Herr Bock called on the House to bear in mind that the taxes in question deprived millions of people of food.

Tunis, 27th—France has just strengthened her forces here by nearly five thousand men.

Paris, 27th—M. Loubet has solved the Cabinet crisis. He has recast the Cabinet with the following gentlemen: Cavignac, Freycinet, Ribot, and Viellemin.

Constans was not offered a portfolio.

Lisbon, 27th—Three Spaniards, who are suspected of being the authors of a recent explosion near the Spanish Consulate, have been arrested. Three bombs were found in the house occupied by them.

London, 27th—Mr. Edward Cobain has been expelled from the House of Commons for immorality.

Rome, 27th—A Cabinet crisis is imminent. Luzzatti, Minister of the Treasury, and Branca, Postmaster-General, will probably resign.

Sofia, 27th—The author of the criminal assault on the Bulgarian envoy Vulkovitch is supposed to be a Russian named Ivanhoff.

Madrid, 27th—Major Drockell, who is at present visiting Spain, has persuaded Premier Canovas del Castillo to name a committee for the representation of Spain at the World's Fair in Chicago.

London, 27th—A terrible collision took place off Flamborough Head, between the British steamers Loughbrow and Forest Queen. The shock was so violent that the Forest Queen sank immediately, all hands perishing, with the exception of the captain.

New York, 27th—The World states that another Cuban Revolution is being got up here and in the Island, on a larger scale than the former. It adds that 800 Cuban residents here are preparing to join the revolutionary movement for the proclamation of Cuban independence.

MUNICIPAL STATISTICS.

The returns for January, 1892, for the city of Buenos Ayres may be summed up thus:

Births	1,829
Marriages	310
Deaths	1,065

Of the births 14 per cent were illegitimate, which is not a high ratio, the average in European cities being from 20 to 30 per cent. There were 310 marriages, that is 620 persons married, who were as follows:—

	Men.	Women.	Total.
Argentines	72	94	166
Italians	102	85	187
Spaniards	82	71	153
French	21	29	50
British	4	5	9
Germans	3	5	8
Various	26	21	47
Total	310	310	620

The marriage table being the best gauge of the composition of our city, and the population estimated at 536,200, on January 31st we find it made up thus:

	Population.
Italians	161,000
Argentines	145,000
Spaniards	132,500
French	44,000
British	8,000
Germans	7,000
Various	38,700
Total	536,200

According to the above table, Argentines compose one-fourth, foreign residents three-fourths, of the population; and this is confirmed by the nationality of parents of the above 1,829 children born during the month, viz.:

Parents.
Argentine	212
Foreign	1,108
Mixed	509
	1,829

Allowing half the item of "mixed" to be Argentines we find 467 Argentine and 1362 foreign parents, which shews nearly the same ratio as in marriages. There is certainly no other city in the world where three-fourths of the population is foreign.

There were 1,065 deaths, of which number 566 were infants under 5 years, being more than half the total. The deaths of adults were:—

Fever	96
Violent deaths	44
Sundries	359
Total	499

It seems almost incredible that 9 per cent of all adults should come to violent deaths in Buenos Ayres, and we regret to add that 13 of the above number died of "heridas," that is of stabbing or gunshot wounds. This implies that deaths from assassination or riot form 2 per cent of the mortality of adults, the average in Europe being only 3 per 1,000, as shewn by Professor Bodio.

According to Dr. Arata's computation the population increased last month by 1,162 souls, that is 764 by excess of births over deaths and 398 by immigration: it is his custom to suppose that 20 per cent of the net arrivals in this port remain in Buenos Ayres, and 80 per cent go to the rural districts. Last month there were 5,983 immigrants, against whom 1,137 left the country.

The police record for the month shews:—

Crimes committed	335
Dunkenness	1,251
Other offences	1,522
Total	3,108

The number of criminals in prison on 31st January was 1014, including 325 condemned during the month. We regret to observe that 40 per cent of the arrests last month were for drunkenness, an offence formerly unknown in our city: it appears that 42 persons are arrested daily under this head.

Hospital returns shew thus:

Admitted	2,648
Died	198

Death-rate was low, not quite 8 per cent, but it was much higher among Argentines than foreigners, viz.:—

	Admitted.	Died.	Death-rate.
Argentines	614	91	15 p. c.
Foreigners	2,034	107	5 ,,

The above is exclusive of the Lunatic Asylum, which had 1271 inmates and 13 deaths, giving an annual death-rate of 12 per cent, which is the same as in Europe.

It is a significant fact that 213 persons died in hospitals or asylums last month, being 20 per cent of the total mortality. We doubt if so high a ratio can be found in any other part of the world. It may be the result of poverty among the working-classes, or of so large a proportion of our population having neither wife nor home.

The consumption of food last month was—40,500 horned cattle, 54,000 sheep, 110,000 chickens, 5,800 turkeys, 4,800 rabbits; also 3,200 tons flour, 6,100 tons vegetables, 2,100 tons fruit, 100 tons fish, 87 tons butter and cheese, 2,800,000 eggs, 360,000,000 gallons water. This gives an average consumption per inhabitant as follows:—

Meat, lbs.	264 per ann.
Flour, do.	152 ,,
Vegetables, do.	200 ,,
Fruit, do.	101 ,,
Butter&cheese, do	4 ,,
Eggs, No.	63 ,,
Water, gallons	22 per day.

This shews that the masses of the people are well fed, in spite of the wicked Octroi duties.

The value of city house-property bought and sold last month was as follows:—

	Bought by	Sold by
Argentines	2,240,000	3,070,000
Italians	1,360,000	915,000
Spaniards	650,000	400,000
French	320,000	140,000
British	27,000	65,000
Germans	326,000	23,000
Various	516,000	826,000
Total	5,439,000	5,439,000

Argentines and Britishers appear to be selling out, but Italians, Spaniards, Germans and French are buying "fast and furious," a strong proof that they believe in a good time coming. The amount of city property bought last month by foreign residents averaged in value $100,000 daily.

The following table shews the average price paid, in gold dollars per sq. metre, in the principal parishes:—

	1890	1891	January 1892
Merced	80	58	41
S. Ignacio	70	55	64
S. Miguel	86	38	51
S. Nicolas	41	29	17
Piedad	42	18	24
Socorro	38	20	20
Average	53	36	36

It appears, therefore, that property is holding its own and has not fallen below the average for 1891. This would lead us to infer that we have at last touched bottom, as regards the crisis, and that we may before long see better days.

THE RIVER PLATE HANDBOOK.

We mean to go to press next week with the first sheets of the new Handbook, the impression of which will probably occupy three months. This will be the 6th edition and consist of 2,000 copies, bringing up the total number to 11,000, which far exceeds that of any other work yet published in or upon South America. It is now 29 years since we brought out the first edition, and the book is as well known in Europe as in Buenos Ayres. The quantity of paper consumed in the various editions exceeds five tons, and the cost of printing and binding £2,000 sterling. The account-sales down to June 1891 shewed that about 6,800 copies were sold in the River Plate, 2,000 in England and 200 in other countries.

In undertaking so large an outlay, at present, as a work of this kind involves it may appear a hazardous business on our part, but we have every confidence that better days are in store for these countries before long, and we wish in this manner to welcome the good time coming.

Impartial judges have repeatedly declared that the River Plate Handbook is the most complete work of the kind that has ever been published. The London Standard has said "that it is a pity each of the British Colonies cannot shew a similar Handbook," and the Scottish Geographical Journal regards it as "a model which may be advantageously copied by the compilers of handbooks in general."

The Argentine Government has never looked favourably on this remarkable book, whereas President Cleveland of the United States emphatically expressed his desire to have a similar work on the Great Republic. While we neither solicit nor expect any favor from the Argentine Government we feel bound to say that the imposition of import-dues on copies printed in England has been an ungenerous proceeding, seeing that the book was eminently calculated to advance the interests of the Republic.

As the 6th edition will be printed in Buenos Ayres we shall be spared the mortification of paying import-dues. The price will be 5$ currency in Buenos Ayres and 8 shillings in London, thus giving a decided advantage to the public of our city. A limited number of advertisements will be received at 20$ currency per page, or $5 per quarter page.

THE PORTUGAL MAILS.

London, Feb. 5th.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO

Feb. 27th.

The new Minister of War yesterday visited the barracks and expressed himself well satisfied with the condition of the soldiers. H. E subsequently visited the president of the Republic, with whom he chatted for over an hour. The new Minister is thinking of carrying out several important reforms.

Mr. Blas Vidal is to be appointed Uruguayan Minister in Rio, in lieu of Mr Bausa, who has joined the new Cabinet.

A great fire broke out on Thursday night in the timber-yard at the corner of Calles Miguelete and Rio Negro. The fire was mastered and extinguished yesterday morning. The losses are said to be considerable. Several people were injured.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

The Interventor was entertained on Thursday night at a banquet given to him by a host of admirers, including the Governor, the Ministers, the Deputies, the Judges and every other Jack in office. It was a splendid affair, according to the telegrams received yesterday. The "locus in quo" was the local theatre, all the boxes being occupied by the leading families, who grew quite hungry at the sight of so many good things. Major Day was the hero of the evening. His toast electrified everyone. He was cheered and encored, and clapped, and applauded, until the champagne was exhausted. But "succeeding sports the mirthful band inspired." The ladies were invited to leave their boxes and the waiters to remove the tables. The orchestra struck up a valse, and then the "baile" began. The telegrams do not say when the dance ceased. We suppose it is going on still. The Interventor was the gayest of the gay. He displayed an agility that roused the admiration of the ladies and provoked the envy of the men. It is difficult to content every one in this world.

Telegrams from Santiago report the opening of the branch of the Banco de la Nacion Argentina. Lots of people went to deposit money, and a good many others went to inquire the discount-rate.

Our Rosario exchanges state that a newspaper will be started shortly to uphold the candidature of Mr. Oroño, who is at present head of the Land Office and Locust Committee. Mr. Oroño would make a very good Governor. There appear to be a good many people in favour of his candidature, but for the moment very little attention is being paid to the question, as all are engrossed with the Presidential problem. The Governor of Santa Fe is still in Cordoba, far from his "querencia", chatting with his brother Governor on the subject of the next presidency.

The Rosario Press allude to the advisability of starting a branch there of the Sabadell Bank. There is already a branch in this city under the able management of Mr. Ochoa. Sabadell, by the way, is one of the wonders of the world. It is a small town in Spain, near Barcelona; and the inhabitants are so peaceful, hard working and honest that frauds are unknown, and no crime has been committed there within the last decade. By all means let the Rosarinos have a branch of the Sabadell Bank, and let us hope that in time Rosario will become the Sabadell of the Plate.

Our provincial exchanges report a great lack of agricultural machinery, threshing machines being particularly in demand.

Auctioneer Thwaites, of Santa Fe, has sold 56 land concessions in Lastena Colony for $43,000. Buyer Mr. Marcelino Escalada.

In regard to the murder of the soldier Pombo, particulars of which we gave in our last, our La Plata exchanges state that a "sumario" is being made out. The sumario, when finished, will be handed to the Criminal Judge, who will proceed then to deal with the case. In the meantime, the officer who caused the soldier's death continues under arrest.

The good people of Lujan, like those of Mercedes and Olavarria, are starting a bank of their own to foment agricultural interests. There seems to be a very wide field for sound business still in the queen-province.

LETTERS FROM PATAGONIA.

A BAD BUSINESS. A LONG RIDE. AND NOTHING MORE.

Puerto Gallegos.

We have come back to the haunts of men so to speak, or at least to haunts where there are houses, a shop, and plenty of Government officials.

Our expedition did not go quite so far as was intended. That I could not help it, the following will show. But in order not overmuch to bore my readers, and to imitate the example of historians, who are diffuse when speaking of a triumphant march forward, and singularly reticent when giving an account of a defeat, I shall be brief and content myself with quoting once more extracts from my note-book.

"Somewhere about the foot of the Andes. Sunday morning.

"We are still riding along the banks of the Santa Cruz river, but we believe a few miles only separate us from the lake where it takes its source, for we have long ago passed the spot reached by Fitzroy.

"We have done one thing at least that deserves to be recorded in print; it is to have dragged so far with us a steam-launch up this turbulent and decidedly dangerous river, almost without help from the horses. It is true we have had no hand in it ourselves, the sailors have done it for us. But then it is an old-established custom that whenever a battle is won, the general reaps the fame. Therefore, whilst the sailors have had their share of the work, it is but right we should have ours of glory.

"Afternoon. We stop for lunch among some bushes, according to custom.

"But we are out of provisions. The bags which contained our tea and coffee have grown lamentably light, and our eyes, when investigating their hollow depths make out only a few remnants, like scattered remains of decayed fossils, of black leaves and grounds mixed with dust. Our ship biscuit, that delicious food, has been devoured to the last mite. Sugar is but a far-away memory.

"The Chief entrusts a letter to a soldier and sends him with it to Puerto Gallegos, to procure relief. He orders me to accompany him. I do not like it. No, not at all. But orders are orders.

"We start at two o'clock. We have a journey of 360 miles before us. José (the soldier) talks airily of our riding that distance in six days, but when I look at the forlorn figures of our horses and the lamentable appearance of their backs, I feel the odds are against us.

"We steer south by east, by the compass. The Andes are wreathed in clouds, and rain is pouring down. We are keeping pace with it, so that, as we gallop over hill and dale, we have constantly a rainbow before us, now fading, now gleaming again.

"Six o'clock. We reach the top of the great staircase of terraces that limits on the south side the Santa Cruz valley. The undulated pampa stretches before us. The table land is high in these parts, I do not think I am exaggerating in estimating its altitude to be at least 1,500 feet above the level of the sea.

"We encamp on the shore of a small lake. It looks rather like a pond, as far as size goes, but its water is of a deep blue, nestling as it does among black lava rocks, as in the centre of an old crater. All around it, amidst the huge stones piled up in disorder, on which crawl the gray and yellow lichens, thick clusters of red flowers, (a kind of Adesmia, I think), make a crimson belt to the water. They are the most decidedly red flowers I have ever seen; it seems as if the molten lava that in olden times flowed here had cared to leave a memory of its lurid glow.

"A rainbow arches over the black clouds in the east, and behind us the sun shines brightly in a clear sky, descending slowly towards the dazzling Cordillera. We have not often in our voyage been spoilt by scenes of such overwhelming beauty.

"But José doesn't seem to appreciate nature much. He is grumbling because fuel is scarce. Only a few stunted "mata-negra" bushes grow here and there among the rocks. Still, we eat our scanty supper—we have killed a guanaco coming along—and now, I presume, are going to sleep, sheltered as well as may be from the threatening rain by a lava boulder.

"Monday. Rain again. We gallop along, over rough lava, over grass and sand and bushes, over the mud and salt of dried lagunas. Before us, beyond the horizon, a huge column of smoke is rising in the sky.

"José has two horses, I but one.

—We are going to kill our nags, I say, going along at that rate.

—We can't afford to loiter on the way, says José. Besides that smoke may be a signal from friends. We had better reach it at once.

—How far do you reckon it to be?

About four or five leagues." (I know now it was more than twenty leagues away.)

"Midday passes. Juanino (my horse) is lagging behind, though still full of pluck. Every time I speak to him in a cheering style, he tosses his head, gives a heave with his back, and quickens his canter with renewed energy. But he is getting tired.

"The sun sets. I lose sight of my companion. But there is no danger of my getting lost, for the smoke is still rising black and dense before me, though it looks as far away as ever.

Night closes in. Juanino is crawling along, now, very slowly; and every time I stop to look around and try to ascertain the distance, he lies down. However, he gets up again without too much coaxing when I want him to go on.

"At last I sight, not the smoke, that has become invisible in the darkness, but the glare of a fire in the distance.

"One effort more! little horse. There is still an hour's work before us, and then I shall stop tormenting you. And you shall have fresh water and grass, dried and coarse, it is true, but then you don't know any better food?

"Three men are sitting round the fire, close to a small "laguna," when I come up with it. One is José, the other two are from the Santa Cruz settlement. They have provisions with them. They have "yerba" and sugar—Oh glory!—they have "charqui," they have guanaco meat, they have biscuit, and I am bringing a dozen ostrich's eggs with me. We shall want for nothing.

"I spoke slightingly of mate some time ago. I retract every word I said, for I am awfully thirsty, not having had a glass, or rather—to speak more correctly, for I possess no glass—a sardine-box full of water since the morning. One of the men says:

"José tells us you haven't eaten anything to-day. Would you like a bit of biscuit and bacon before supper? And he says it as if it were quite a commonplace offer!

Won't I just? We are flesh and blood, after all, whatever may be our soul's aspirations, and now for a piece of bacon. I should give up Dickens's, Pickwick.... no....not that, but any leading article of the Times. Some days ago, at the foot of the Cordillera, we shot a young wild horse, and you should have seen the enthusiasm with which everyone of us gulped down great lumps of the fat of the animal, in spite of its strong flavour. In truth the game of the pampa, the ostriches and guanacoes, are exceedingly lean in spring and summer, and, after some weeks, the want of nonnitrogenous food makes itself strongly and painfully felt.

"Later on. Everyone of us has stuck up on end an ostrich's egg before the fire, and through a hole on the top, is stirring the yoke with a twig to keep it from rising, till it constitutes a nice dish of "oeufs brouilles," and is eaten with a flattened stick in lieu of a spoon. Salt is not wanting, there are tons of it, first rate quality, in a dried up "laguna" close by.

Now for a pipe and a yarn, and then to sleep.

T. Chappuis.

THE FAMINE IN RUSSIA.

BY COUNT TOLSTOI.

All the measures of relief now in progress or under consideration professedly tend to the attainment of one of two objects: to save the agriculture of the country from irretrievable ruin, and the people from the wasting disease or miserable death that results from the bad quality or utter lack of sustenance. The principal measure employed to realise these objects is the monthly distribution of flour in quantities varying from eighteen to twenty-four pounds per individual, inclusive or exclusive of workmen. At present people are asking themselves whether and to what extent this method is successful; and many replies have been volunteered and suggestions offered. My own opinion, based upon what I have myself observed, is that it is an utter failure; and my reason is that the peasants, who, without corn or money, still possess land, huts, horses, cows, and implements, the preservation of which is absolutely necessary if the agriculture of the country is to be saved from ruin, are "ipso facto" disqualified from receiving any help, while those who receive it have nothing but their lives to save, and are allowed much too little relief to save even that.

There are three types of peasant in Russia generally, and in the famine provinces in particular. 1. The relatively rich, whose families number from eight to sixteen souls, of whom from three to five only can work. They possess on an average twelve acres of land and four horses. 2. The middle class, who, with one or two working members and one or two horses, have the utmost difficulty to make both ends meet, and rarely succeed in doing so without the aid of some relative who earns a little money in cities and sends part of it home. 3. The third type is that of a family with one bread-winner, no horse or only one, the hunger sword eternally suspended over their heads by a gossamer thread—men whom the slightest change in wind, weather, health or relations, or surroundings metamorphoses into beggars with wallets on their shoulders and emptiness in their stomachs.

Now the relief allotted by the Government consists, as I say, in flour; and only peasants of the third category are considered qualified to share it, those of the other two classes who are, so to say, the tottering pillars of Russian agriculture, receive no help at all. I have carefully gone into the budget of these two classes of farmers, and I find that, unless speedy assistance be rendered them, they have no choice but to till only one-half or one-third of the land which they usually cultivate, to sell their corn, their horses, which will fetch practically nothing, their cows and sheep, which will bring in very little more, and sink to the level of the second or even the third type.

The outlook of the second class of farmers is equally cheerless. They, too, must disappear or don the beggar's wallet unless something be promptly done to keep them from being precipitated into the gulf of misery that yawns beside them. And there are no signs as yet of any intention to help them. Before a peasant can be relieved in Russia it is absolutely indispensable that he should be thoroughly and absolutely ruined. The life-boatmen obstinately refuse to rescue the drowning man until he has gone down for the last time and produces no more bubbles on the surface of the water.

This being so, it is obvious that the first end professedly aimed at is not, and cannot possibly be, attained. For the flour cannot save farmers from ruin if it be distributed only to those who are already ruined; nor could it enable them to pull through, even if they did receive it, because the quantity given is far too small; and lastly, it is a heavy curse in disguise to all who receive it, because, being doled out gratuitously and not as wages for work, none of them can appreciate it, and very few will put it to a good or even harmless use. But if the free distribution of flour fails to prop up Russian agriculture, which is shaken to its foundations, it is equally unsuccessful in preserving the peasantry from hunger, typhus, and death. And this for the following reasons: First of all, because this method of distribution makes it possible for the peasants to sell the flour or corn and spend the money in vodka. Secondly, because it can permanently profit only those who possess some other food in reserve—potatoes, rye, bran, or pigweed, or else a little money to purchase them, which is scarcely ever the case. For 25lb of rye flour, when there is not a scrap of any other kind of food in the house, cannot last longer than from fifteen to twenty days, while during the other ten or fifteen, the inmates are liable to fall sick or die of starvation. Thirdly, because only naturally strong constitutions can hold their own in spite of insufficient or bad food; while the weak and delicate must sicken and die. Now, in all the famine districts, poor and rich without exception eat bad bread, bread mixed with bran, pigweed, tree bark, clay, or other pernicious ingredients. And it continually happens that while strong healthy persons eat pigweed with seeming impunity, the weak sicken and die.

Thus, I lately saw an old woman who came to one of the soup-kitchens holding a big lump of some black stuff which proved to be pigweed bread—the only food she had—begging to be allowed to come and have her meals there during her illness, for she was very ill at the time. Another day I entered the hut of a peasant who was not in receipt of any relief because he belonged to the category of "rich" farmers. He lived with his wife and his old mother. Children they had none. I found the couple at dinner, which consisted of potatoe soup and pigweed bread. In the kneading-trough I noticed a considerable quantity of dough, which contained a much larger proportion of the noxious weed. The man and his wife looked cheerful and active, but the old woman lay on the stove in an advanced stage of illness. The pigweed, she said, had all but killed her; she had much sooner, she added, eat but once a day, provided she could get a little pure rye-bread, than still her craving for food twice or thrice with the horrible stuff she was in the habit of eating. Another case came under my observation still more recently. A woman, who also belonged to a "rich" family, came to ask permission to send her daughter to our soup-kitchen, on the ground that they were unable to feed her at home, in consequence of which she was sick. The poor girl, I learned, was an illegitimate child and as such was treated with a degree of cruelty which is unfortunately too often considered justified by the irregularity of the relations between the parents. I have given three, but I might readily give thirty-three similar instances which go to show that the distribution of flour does not guarantee the old, the young, the weak, and the unloved members of the family from disease and death, resulting from bad and insufficient nourishment.

BUENOS AIRES CRICKET CLUB AND THE OPEN LAWN TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Mr. Editor,

If "An Old Committee Man" had the object in view of making the ladies and gentlemen (non-members of the B.A.C.C.) who have entered their names to play in the Lawn Tennis Tournament feel that they are at present in the unenviable position of intruders, he will probably now feel satisfied.

I am not a member of the B.A.C.C., but on seeing the very cordial invitation extended to any one who is a member of any recognised club, I put down my name as a competitor; but if "An Old Committee Man" will favour me by answering, through the medium of your esteemed paper, whether he is at present a member of the B.A.C.C. he may rest assured that, should said answer be in the affirmative, I will not make use of anything he can lay claim to as a member of the Club. At the same time I should like to know whether the aims and objects of a club are to promote good fellowship amongst neighbouring clubs, or to harbour the dog-in-the-manger feeling displayed by "An Old Committee Man", who in the latter part of his letter of Feb. 24th deplores the fact that athletic meetings have been neglected of late years, while in the same letter he proclaims that he has always opposed games of football being played on cricket ground. I may be mistaken, but an athletic meeting (at least such as I have had the pleasure of witnessing) would, in my opinion, injure the "little good subsoil" on the Palermo ground to a much greater extent than a game of football would do.

While thanking the promoters of the Tournament for their generous invitation, I must say I feel very sorry for myself and the other non-members of the B.A.C.C. (ladies especially) who have responded to it.

Member of Another Club.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY BANQUET.

27th. February.

The following circular was sent round yesterday—

Dear Sir,

At a meeting of Irishmen which took place in this city on 24th. inst., it was resolved to celebrate the festival by holding a St. Patrick's day dinner on 17th. March prox.

It is necessary to know, with as much anticipation as possible, the number of gentlemen who will attend, and as the entries must be closed on the afternoon of 14th. March, you are requested to apply immediately for your card of admission to the Hon Treasurer, Mr Patrick Ham, Calle San Martin No. 367.

Yours faithfully

Santiago G. O'Farrell
Hon. Sec.

"This, ladies and gentlemen, is the celebrated trick mule "Dot," said the clown, as the beast was being led into the ring. "After many years of effort, I am able to say I can make him do anything he wants to."

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The workmen in the Central Argentine workshops in Rosario are on strike. They have given the manager 24 hours to meet their demands.

The N.R. Board have advised the Government to submit to the Board of Public Works for approval the application filed by the Central Argentine for authority to open to goods' traffic the line between Victoria and Garcia.

The Inspector-General has reported favorably on the improvements which the Central Argentine propose to make at Retiro Station.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news from Berlin by Galveston telegram is very serious. The main cause of the riots is the question that threatens to convulse before long the whole of Europe, except England, viz., Food and Work for the half-starved masses. The blighting effects of Protection are now coming to a dangerous head everywhere; and before the end of the century there will certainly be more crowned heads on the retired list, if a new leaf be not speedily turned over. The young Emperor's silly speech at Brandenburg has brought out in public what has long been whispered in secret, viz., that His Imperial Majesty is "off his head". Great events are looming up in Europe. There must be some serious meaning in the sudden strengthening of the British army in Egypt and the French in Tunis; and even in the hasty recall of our colleague, Mr. Melton Prior, for work on the Danube.

Readers, we part, to meet again next Thursday morning. Don't enjoy yourselves too much during Carnival, about which we have nothing to tell you beyond the fact that it promises to be sublimely "fiambre". Don't throw any water, or even scent at your fellow citizens, or you will get into trouble; if you insist on throwing something, then let it be a little flower, or some cut paper. As for Corsos, comparsas etc.. we fear they will only be a shadow of their former self.

There seems little chance of clearing up the mystery about the Villa Devoto murder. The police were set on Friday to watch the house, which is unoccupied, but the supposed criminal is said to have been hiding in the neighborhood and to have come into town by the 7.30 a. m. train yesterday. It appears that she was not the poor girl's mother, and the rumor goes that she poisoned some persons before, which gives color to the prevailing impression that she was employed to commit the murder. Villa Devoto was purposely selected for the commission of the crime, as it is a very quiet place, there being no police or other authorities. The house is not a hut, as stated, but a comfortable Quinta. The deceased was a pretty girl, engaged to a doctor at Tres Arroyos, who was to marry her next month on her coming of age and receiving her property, said to be $1,000. Among the neighbours it is believed that this property was connected with the motive for the crime. Such is the indignation of the neighbors that the butcher, baker, grocer and milkman refused to sell food to the supposed murderess, Benjamina, who has now gone to some other place, and will probably be heard of again unless the authorities see fit to lock her up.

We are promised half-a-column on the scenic beauties of Lake Nahuel-Huapi by one of the most experienced writers that has ever come to Buenos Ayres, who visited that delightful spot a few months ago.

The heading in yesterday's issue referring to the Mutual Aid Society was a trifle erroneous. We are informed that the Society is not exclusively of the C. Argentine Railway nor has it any connection with same, further than counting amongst its members a good many employees of that company. The Society is independent of any railway whatsoever, and is composed of employees of more than five railways, the best represented being the Ensenada, Rosario and the C. Argentine.

In the Cricket Match, that will be commenced to-morrow between the B.A.C.C. and the Montevideo C.C. the eleven to represent the former team will be chosen from the following gentlemen: Messrs. J. Gifford, E. W. Gifford, G. Anderson, R. Anderson, Harker, Ganod, Masters, Ker-Seymer, Parry, Lace, Walshe and Mills. Play will commence on the arrival of the 9.45 a.m. train from the Central.

The storm in the first hour of yesterday morning was hailed by the panting and mosquito-bitten population with unfeigned gratitude to the Clerk of the Weather. The wind was of terrific force, but only lasted for twenty minutes, when it went back to its cave and left the rain, thunder and lightning to carry on the business. Some damage was done here and there, but not very much.

Hundreds of people left town yesterday by the late trains for country parts. We hope to see most of them back on Wednesday morning. Many went to Cordoba and other places in that direction till Saturday next.

The card for the Hurlingham Pony Races to-morrow is excellent, and we quite envy those who intend to try "Three Days in a Stationary Sleeping Car." Perhaps we'll turn up, to have a look at them and the numerous other visitors from town.

A most brutal double murder is reported from the colony Capivara, near San Cristobal. Two Argentines went to the house of Mr. Tugman, and asked to be allowed to sleep at night near the "corral," having with them a bottle of "caña" and some provisions. Señor Tugman, his wife and two children, also a brother, were the inmates of the house, and one peon slept outside. When the visitors noted everything quiet in-doors, they got two horses ready, and then entered the house and met Sr. Tugman's brother, whom they instantly shot. The other brother, hearing the noise, came out, and was also shot. Then the ruffians attacked the helpless woman, fearing that she might call help, and gave her a terrific blow on the head, completely stunning her. They then made off with all the valuables to be found, but were captured two days after. When the lady recovered it was to find two corpses in the house.

Something should be done at once to stop the loss of life by drowning in the Madero docks; every week two or three people perish, as there is no life-saving apparatus of any kind, not even a boat or a rope in readiness. It would be easy to have a supply of life-buoys and ropes in each dock, in a convenient place. There was a terribly painful scene the other day, when two little boys were drowned under the eyes of hundreds of people, who ran about wildly, shouting, and searching in vain for some means to succour the poor lads. In the name of humanity let something be done at once.

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to its EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discoloring or damaging the Wool.

The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."

Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Saturday, Feb. 27th.

The liquidation continued to-day with varying fortunes. As the ring opened, the bears carried everything before them, and there was a moment when all were prepared to see gold drop under 56. At half-past twelve, however, it leaked out that gold was short; the bears at first sneered at the report, but it very soon turned out true, as the chalk figures on the board revealed. The gold 'shortage' did not amount to much, and the rise did not exceed one dollar in the ounce. The bears, in spite of the morning's rise, can lay claim to a signal victory over the bulls this month. We must bear in mind that the gold ounce opened at $63 this month; that the whole commercial community, with a few exceptions, favored a rise in gold; that in the teeth of this opposition, and of general political alarm, the bears began their campaign and have succeeded in putting the gold down as low as $54.20 per ounce; the bulls have recuperated $3—for gold closed to-day at $57—but the liquidation is in favor of the bears.

The speculation was very active all morning; over thirty thousand ounces changed hands; the price opened at $56, rose steadily to 57.40, and closed at 57. Sovereigns were dull, the price opened at $17.40, rose to 17.70 and closed at 17.65. The closing rates show a premium of 250‡ o/o on ounces and sovereigns.

The sudden rise in gold to-day has led many to suppose that gold will rule high next month. The bears, especially the heavy dealers who raked in differences this month, continue to operate heavily for a fall for the end of next month; they are quite confident that the market must fall headlong, and they base their operation on the undonbted improvement in politics: they argue that General Roca's support in the latest political evolution settles the campaign, and that the country may look forward to along period of peace and reform. The bulls fail to see the practical value of the above arguments or any prospects of improvement as long as the present absurd financial policy is pursued. Bankers and merchants want some tangible more guarantee than mere political honesty and peace; as long as guarantees of reform, retrenchment, and of reduction in the volume of the currency are not forthcoming, the market can afford to sneer at speculative decline in the premium, for in the long run gold must rise higher and higher. This is the unbiassed opinion of those who view the situation from a loftier stand-point than that of Bolsa speculation.

A few hitches were reported in the liquidation this morning, but guarantees were supplied, and an amicable "modus vivendi" will pave the way to a satisfactory settlement. The wonder is that the liquidation passed off so quietly, considering not only the enormous proportions of the bullish speculation, but its wide-spread roots in every quarter of the hall. The settlement is another proof of the very sound foundations of the market at present.

Patriotic Bonds were dull and weak. National Cedulas were in better demand; B closed at 91, C and E at 70 and 71; a small amount of D also changed hands at 70. Catalinas were weaker at 7. Spanish Bank shares were firm at 80. La Plata Cedulas were dull and heavy.

Exchange was nominal all morning. Sterling was quoted at 48d. to 48⅛d., francs at 5.06 to 5.08 on Paris, and marks at 4.09 to 4.10. Discounts shewed no improvement to-day.

The above figures give an exact idea of the march of the speculation since the beginning of the year; prices in February were both higher and much lower than in January.

It appears that there is no foundation to the report that Don Lazaro Repetto has bought 5,500 'novillos' this month.

The Gulf of Corcovado, the first steamer of the Gulf line ever bound for the Plate, is expected at La Plata from Valparaiso on the 10th prox. She has already engaged a large cargo of live animals. The Gulf steamers will ply in the future regularly with La Plata.

The liquidation did not proceed as smoothly as expected this afternoon; the operation began to drag, and differences were held over. This led many to apprehend that there were fresh hitches in the liquidation.

Payments on 'Change to-day were insignificant. The desks were deserted, an eloquent proof of the utter stagnation in the produce markets. The wool market shewed no improvement this morning.

The movement at the private banks was very heavy all day; up to 4 o'clock the banking halls were crowded and the turn-over was one of the largest for many months.

This being settlement day, no second ring was held this afternoon. Outside, on the kerbstone, gold rose rapidly and closed at $57.40 to the ounce, say 2521 per cent premium.

Gold for next week was quoted to-day at cash prices. We heard of a few thousand ounces sold for next Saturday at 20 cents backwardation. On the other hand, some operations were reported with centango for next month.

We are requested to state that, as the Custom House will be closed on Monday and Tuesday next, there will be no attendance at the British Consulate on those days. The Bolsa and the banks will also be closed during Carnival days.

The Minister of the Interior issued a decree to-day annulling all concession granted for fishing, hunting, and the working of guano, phosphate and nitrate beds on the Patagonian coast and adjacent islands.

The Port works are being pushed forward with great activity, there being over 2,000 men at work. Water will be again let into Dock No. 3 on the 31st of next month. The contractors are hard at work at the North Basin, and are, we are glad to say, dredging the channels.

We take the following from the Montevideo Times:—

"The favourable impression noted yesterday was confirmed to-day, though business is evidently limited by the extreme want of money. If it were not for this, we think prices would rise faster.

"National Bank shares had nearly all the business, and were pretty brisk, opening and closing at 10.20, at which price the bulk of sales was done, there being one or two unimportant oscillations to 10.40 and 10. 2760 shares sold. The only other operations were $7,050 Unifieds at 3⅛ and 3⅛.20.

"4,500 arrs. wool were sold in 'feria' yesterday at 22½ to 28½ reals fleece, according to quality. No business recorded in barraca.

"A Cerro saladero has sold 2000 salted steer hides, half under salt and the rest to follow, at 50 reals the pesada.

"The German ship Klio, Capt. Kuhlsen, entered port yesterday in distress, ten days out from Rio Janeiro for Talcahuano in ballast, five of the crew having died from yellow fever, and others sick on board with the same. She has been put in strict quarantine off Flores Island.

"The Government Bill for the unification of the Internal Debt has been passed in general by the Representatives, without the shadow of a discussion. In fact, we hardly expected otherwise. The Bill gives the home creditors better terms than those forced on the foreign creditors, and, moreover, gives them an option of conversion which was denied the latter. This being recognised, it is hardly likely there would be any opposition to the Bill. In certain cases the home creditor, being on the spot to defend his rights, has an obvious advantage over the foreign creditor. This is one of them."

Our London Corresponden t sends us the following mems:—

"The fifth ordinary general meeting of the Mortgage Company of the River Plate (Limited) was held at Winchester-house. Mr. John Morris, who presided, after referring to the recent political troubles in Argentina, said that they had no securities except first mortgage securities. They had altered somewhat the form of their accounts. They thought that it was better not to specify the total interest accrued to them, and then enter the arrears as a separate item deducted from it on the other side. They had dwelt merely with the money absolutely collected, preferring to come before the shareholders without any estimate of future revenue, but with actual cash. It would be seen that their capital was in debt, owing to the depreciation of some of their securities. After making a liberal allowance for the depreciation, there was still a margin out of the reserve fund to cover the loss, so that they were perfectly justified in saying that their capital was intact. In addition to this, and after paying them a dividend of 6 per cent., which, considering the times, could not but be acceptable, they carried to the reserve fund $8,000. He concluded by moving the adoption of the report. Mr. W. Wilson seconded the motion. Mr. Thomas Farrel, who recently visited the Argentine Republic, gave it as his opinion, that all the mortgages would shortly reach their original value. The motion was adopted.

"With regard to the conversion of the Uruguayan Debt the following note has been addressed by Dr. Ellauri to Messrs. Glyn, Mills, Currie and Co.:—

Bristol Hotel, Jan. 29 1892.

Sirs,

I request you to make known at once that I am duly authorised to declare apocryphal any information having reference to the conversion of the External Debt of the Republic of Uruguay purporting to emanate from the Government of the Republic, excepting such as may be published or authorised by me as Financial Agent of the said Government.

I am, sirs, &c.,

(Signed), José E. Ellauri,
Special Commissioner.

COLONY BALLESTEROS

Railway Station Alejo Ledesma of the Railroad

Ferro-carril Sud de Santa Fe y Cordoba

The soil has been thoroughly examined by the experienced Farmers, and found to be extremely fit for the cultivation of wheat, corn, oat, barley and alfalfa, also for all kinds of produces of the field, vegetables and culture of trees.

The land lays throughout high, and 5 meter deep, exist the most excellent drinkingwater, free from each kind of noxious salt contents. The clima for agriculture and cattle breeding is equal favorable, and as the colony is situated on the latitude between Buenos Ayres and Rosario, there cannot be found a healthyer and more agreeable place.

The price of the ground in consideration of the favorable situation and the excellent fertility is exceedingly cheap, and the payments most advantageous because there are no charges of interests for payments on time.

The sale of the produces is done by shipping them to the Port of Villa Constitucion (27 freight per ton) and the prices are more or less the same as paid in Buenos Ayres.

Everyone who likes to inspect the land will be received by arrival in Alejo Ledesma by the Administrators, Messrs. Maguhn J. Bothlingk, who will give all the necessary informations.

For further particulars apply to the proprietors Herzfeld and Schweitzer, Buenos Ayres, Calle San Martin 140, and at Juan Milich, Villa Constitucion.

TO DRINKERS OF GENUINE SCOTCH WHISKY.

It is a fact that the best Scotch Whisky has now arrived in this country, and the following lines from BON GAULTIER'S BALLADS, viz: "THE MASSACRE OF THE MACPHERSON" (from the Gaelic) will prove that the "GLENLIVET" Whisky has always been to the fore, and its superiority will enable it always to maintain its position.

"Fhairshon had a Son
"Who married Noah's Daughter
"And nearly spoilt ta Flood
"By trinking up the water
"Which he would have done
"I at least believe it
"Had ta mixture been
"Only half "GLENLIVET."

TEA
LA MAGNOLIA

INJURIOUS TEA DRINKING.

In the "Daily Post" of September 2 appears a leading article—evidently from an analytical expert—showing that after 15 minutes "draw," Indian Tea yields 17·73 of tannin, while from China comes only 7·93. What this means few know, but those troubled with indigestion may realise in part by use of True China Tea for one week.

GUARANTEED PURE.

Beware of gross, imitations of this well-known mark. Sold in tins of 1, 3, 6 and 12 lbs.

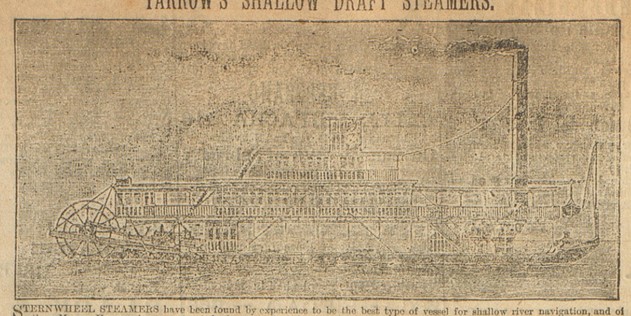
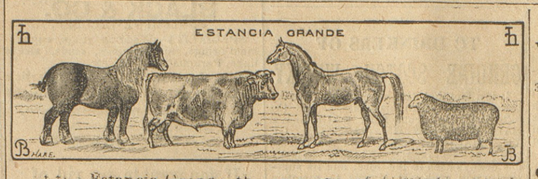
YARROW'S SHALLOW DRAFT STEAMERS.



STERNWHEEL STEAMERS have been found by experience to be the best type of vessel for shallow river navigation, and of these Messrs. YARROW have constructed a large number of successful examples for all parts of the world.
Vessels on this system are constructed, when required, to draw as little as 6 inches.
Messrs. YARROW lately built the sternwheelers "Mosquito" and "Herald" for the British Government, for service on the Zambesi.
They were constructed in floatable sections (capable of shipment), which were simply bolted together, avoiding thereby the costly and difficult process of rivetting up and launching.
For full particulars apply to—
YARROW & CO., Shipbuilders,
POPLAR, LONDON.



At the Estancia Grande, the property of GEORGE BELL there are always on Sale Clydesdale and Cleveland Stallions, Durham Bulls, and Lincoln Rams, also Potros suitable for carriages and heavy draught.

As all animals offered for sale at this Estancia are by stallions, bulls, etc., imported direct from England by the owner, it would therefore be advantageous for intending purchasers to inspect the same before purchasing elsewhere.

Nearest Station (under a league from the Estancia) EMPALME PEREIRA F.C. a La Plata from whence animals can be despatched to any part of the Republic.

Animals of the same breeds are obtainable at the Estancia La Favorita. Apply to the Mayodomo, Almacen La Suiza, Carrera Tandil a Necochea, or to Hotel Dhees, Tandil; also at Estancia Santa Catalina. Apply Mayordomo, San Jose de la Esquina, F.C.O.S. Rosario.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
CHLORODYNE.
The original and only genuine

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, etc.

From Symes & Co's, Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Lear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. To other hands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation dury many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Convictoin that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See the "Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelmning medical testimony accompnies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

which obtained the only Prize medal at the Exhibition in Edinburgh 1890, and the eulogiums of all the Agricultural Press at the Royal Agricultural Show at Doncaster in 1891, where were exhibited Skins dressed with Cannon's Dip and those undressed showing a difference in value of over 25/- per dozen in favor of Cannon's Fluid. These Skins will be exhibited at the Feria of the Sociedad Rural at Dolores and Chascomus.

This Dip has the following advantages:—It never stains the wool, but augments the growth and ensures the highest value in the market. It is easy to use, being readily soluble in cold water, and hand curing is rarely required after.

belonging to the
"EMPRESA COLONIZADORA BARON HIRSCH"
On SUNDAY THE
6 March
AT 12 O'CLOCK
ON THE COLONY

On Sunday, 6th of March, at 12 o'clock, after a good breakfast under the trees, we will sell by public auction and by order of the Director of the "Empresa Colonizadora Baron Hirsch," as all the land is now required for the colonists, all the very superior live stock of the Estancias, "Algarrobos" and "Alice" formerly belonging to the late Dr. W. Leusen, and to-day the Colony "Mauricio," of the aforesaid company. All this stock is justly reputed in the neighbourhood as some of the very best to be had in 9 de Julio and neighbouring partidos as it is now for many years that they have been conscientiously improved by good sires, and to-day we can honestly recommend them to any one in want of good mestizo stock acclimatized to the mixed outside camps. All the stock we offer both sheep and cattle are in magnificent condition, and are fit to be driven any distance. The stock to be offered on sale are the following more or less, fuller particulars of which will be published later on:—
3 points of fine cows, each with imported bull.
5,600 novillos, good mestizos, of 3 years old upwards.
3 rodeos of good mestiza cattle of 2,000 to 2,500 head each and with 8 to 10 o/o of novillos of 2½ years up.
4 point fine Lincolns (200 head) with imported rams.
3 flocks of good Lincoln sheep
1 „ „ „ Rambouillet sheep.
60 pure and mestizo Berkshire and Yorkshire pigs.
The sale will be for cash and for everything that walks, and the buyers will have ten days "plazo" to receive the stock. The "rodeos" will be sold by the cut of 1,000 head with option to rest of same "rodeo." The stock can be seen in the camp any day before the "remate," and interested parties should direct themselves to the Capataz, Don Marcos, on the Estancia "Alice," which lies about two leagues North of "Guanaco" Station Western Railway.
NOTE—Interested parties from Buenos Ayres, outwards can go by Saturday night's train which leaves the Once at 8 0 p.m. to "Guanaco" Station, where carriages will meet them to take them to the Estancia "Alice," where the remate will take place, and they can return by Sunday nights' train leaving "Guanaco" at 9.24 p.m.
